tioning that he had "only just begun." In his testimony at his first appearance Commissioner Waldo put the responsibility for the character of the men in his department squarely up to the individual civil service commission. He said that investigation of applicants for appointment as policemen, which formerly was made by a special bureau of the department after the civil service commission had certified a list, had been abandoned by his orders and at the mayor's direction because, as he believed, two investigations meant a depletion of work and because a new bureau was established in the civil service commission for the purpose. The records of certain applicants in the possession of the police department, showing that they had been arrested for this, that and the other, Mr. Waldo said, he had turned over to the civil service commission, and when the same names were returned to him he appointed the men to the department on the assumption that the commission had made a proper investigation of them.

WORK ON NEW COMFORT STATION

In Paige Street Was Started Today—The Street Will be Closed to Travel

Work on the new comfort station to be erected at the corner of Paige and Bridge streets was started today. A large crew of men in the employ of Patrick Conlon, contractor, started this morning, tearing up the sidewalk and excavating for the foundation of the building. The station when completed will not only supply a much needed place for the central part of the city, but will also add to the appearance of the square and surroundings.

The structure will be 50 by 29 feet, and will occupy a portion of the sidewalk and a section of Paige street. It will set back several feet from Bridge street. It will be built of steel and cement, and will be finished with tile and enamel bricks. It will be one story high. All the latest sanitary conveniences will be installed and when completed it will be one of the best equipped stations in this part of the country.

The contract calls for the building to be completed by December 3, 1912, and the contractor, Patrick Conlon, is confident that the work will be finished before that time. The architect is Henry L. Roark.

This morning Commissioner Cummings sent a letter to Sept. Farrington of the local division of the Bay State Street Railway company, stating that during the construction of the new station, Paige street will be closed to travel, and the thoroughfare was closed today to remain so until the structure is completed.

CHURCH OBSERVED ANNIVERSARY

Special Services Held at St. Marie's Church Yesterday

The beautiful St. Marie's chapel in South Lowell was yesterday the scene of pretty exercises, the occasion being the sixth anniversary of the founding of the parish. The event will be a notable one in the history of the parish and the pastor, Rev. Antoine Amyot, O. M. I., as well as the members of Branch St. Marie, A. C. F. deserve great credit for the success of the affair.

The program consisted of a solemn high mass at the church followed by a reception and lunch at the home of a member of Branch St. Marie, Mr. Rosimont Degagne, and vespers in the afternoon. On this particular occasion, Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I., pastor of St. Joseph's parish, paid his annual visit to the members of the small parish and was the celebrant of the solemn high mass.

Rev. Fr. Watelle was accompanied by Rev. Charles Audibert, O. M. I., and Rev. Bros. Joseph Bolduc and Rosario Jalbert, O. M. I., of the Tewksbury novitiate. The party was received at the school house in Wolcott street by the members of Branch St. Marie and a number of brethren from the city. They were escorted to the church, where the children of the parochial school under the direction of their principal, Miss Emma Chapeau, gave them a rousing reception.

The mass was celebrated at 9.30 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Watelle who was assisted by Bros. Bolduc and Jalbert as deacon and sub-deacon respectively. Rev. Fr. Audibert acted as master of ceremonies. The choir under the direction of Mr. Surprenant rendered the Gregorian Borelaise mass, Miss Dorinda Coutu presiding at the organ. The solos were sustained by Mr. Surprenant and Mr. Enoch Dumont.

After the reading of the gospel Rev. Antoine Amyot, O. M. I., pastor, welcomed the guests in his usual manner and complimented the Artisans on their grand showing. He introduced Fr. Watelle and spoke of the good he has done since his arrival in St. Joseph's parish, referring to the French American orphanage to which he is devoting a large portion of his time.

Rev. Fr. Watelle complimented the parishioners on the success of the event and he reviewed the work which had been accomplished during the past six years, and thanked the parishioners for their cordial reception.

At the close of the mass the celebrant and his assistants amidst cheers left in an automobile, while the Artisans as well as the pastor of the parish repaired to the home of Mr. Degagne, where a hearty luncheon was served. At the conclusion of the repast speeches were in order, and the following were called upon for remarks: Rev. Antoine Amyot, O. M. I., Joseph E. Lambert, president of Branch Pawtucketville, A. C. F., L. N. Milot, L. C. Gelinas, Henri O. Girard, Joseph A. Plante and many others, President Albert Morin presided over the festivities.

REV. FR. AMYOT, O. M. I.

Vespers were sung at 5 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Amyot, O. M. I., officiating, and the clergyman was well pleased to announce that hereafter vespers will be sung every Sunday and also that christenings will be performed at the chapel.

THE U. S. NAVY Is Not Taking any Chances Now of Being Left Without Fuel, After Deciding to Discard Coal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The navy is taking no chances of being left without fuel, after having practically decided to discard coal. The navy department has caused the department of justice to institute a suit against some of the California railroad companies to vacate their patents to about thirty-seven thousand acres of oil land in the Ebbetts region in order that the tract may be used as a source of oil supply for the navy.

same way as do non-musical mortals; by playing ball, and running and boating and eating and by all those other modes of amusement which may be indulged in when outside of the city limits.

The baseball game was, of course, the big event on the day's program. It was a warm contest. So at least thought the members of the contending teams. Ginty's Pets, composed chiefly of members of the Crescent rink orchestra, and Buckley's Pets, made up of musicians playing at the Lowell Casino. These athletes, ranging in age from twenty to fifty odd years, gave remarkable exhibitions of the finer points of the national game; so remarkable were these in fact that several of the players were advised by the spectators to apply for berths on the local New England League team. So the game was indeed the work of the evening, and consequently so many a player became the object of admiration for the decisions were always of a hot-spitting variety—that it was deemed prudent to change arbiters frequently. Therefore, in the course of the five innings in which the game was played there officiated, one after another, about a half a dozen umpires. Ginty's Pets won, four to three, who was the best player it would be difficult to determine. In the ordinary ball game there always springs to light one or two stars but in this same evening show, so mention cannot be made of any particular player, for this would be an injustice to the others.

Here is the score:

After the conclusion of the game the track and field events were run off. Of these the hundred yard dash was won by E. M. Brown, who showed the class of a veritable Ralph Craig. Tom Hannigan was a close second. Time: Ten seconds, plus. The first prize, a derby hat, was given by the Merchants Clothing company, and the second, a pair of cuff links, was donated by Mac Carthy's Apparel Shop. John Hall showed himself spry enough to win the stout gentlemen's race, and incidentally a pair of peacock silk socks. C. A. DeLoraine was the donor of the derby. When George E. Brown held home in the "blind-fold" race and walked off with a signed ring. This being given by the J. P. Finigan Co. while Thomas Larkin was the second man in and was presented with a music rack, the gift of S. Kershaw. With his good right arm Tom Larkin threw the handball out of sight and for this throw was awarded a cash prize, donated by the Hayes Cigar company. Frank Clarke also made a mighty throw, capturing second prize, a cuff link set given by the F. P. Mussey Towel company. The 100 meter handbag special, the "big" contest, captured by Tom Hannigan, who also captured a $2.50 gold piece for first prize.

After these sports had been brought to an end, the one hundred or more musicians and their friends sat down to an appetizing dinner prepared by the D. L. Page company. Among those present were the managers of the local theatres, representatives of the city council and ex-Senator Joseph J. Hubbard.

Thanks were due the managers of the Lowell theatres, the musicians said, for their courtesy in allowing several of their orchestral players to take in the outing. It was also marked at the dinner that from now on all union musicians would endeavor to have the third Sunday of September set apart as a day of rest and enjoyment for the members of their profession; previous to this time musicians having been asked to play during the 265 days of the year. The local union has a membership of about two hundred and has indicated about every band and orchestra in this section. P. H. Griffith is its president.

The members of the committee whose hard work made the outing so pronounced a success were: James H. Buckley, chairman; P. P. Mussey, Alfred Hannigan, John Orrell, James P. Larkin, R. A. Griffith and J. J. Giffin.

FIVE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Big Machine Owned by Manchester Man Crashed Into Electric Light Pole

A big gray Cadillac automobile, owned and operated by A. L. Couture of 749 Pine street, Manchester, N. H., crashed into the electric light pole in front of Carleton & Hovey's drug store at the corner of Merrimack and Shattuck streets shortly before 7:30 o'clock yesterday. All of the occupants received a severe shaking up but with the exception of one, all were able to leave St. John's hospital later in the day.

Mr. Couture and wife and four-year-old daughter, Evangeline, were thrown from the car. Mrs. Couture received a bad cut over the left eye and a fractured left arm. Mr. Couture received severe bruises about the body and had a spike driven through his knee under the knee cap. Their daughter, Evangeline, escaped unhurt, except for the shaking up she received. The other occupants of the car, Mrs. A. L. May, Mr. Couture's mother, and his brother, Fred Couture, were not thrown out, but received bruises and slight cuts about the head.

The party was on its way from Manchester to Providence to meet Mr. Couture's sister-in-law and had been traveling at a rather fair rate of speed, according to some of the passersby who noticed the car previous to the accident. After crossing the Dutton street car tracks Mrs. Couture asked her husband to stop at the first drug store as she was feeling ill. Mr. Couture applied the brakes and the machine started to skid. Nothing that it was headed directly for the sidewalk and for the electric light pole he applied his power again in an attempt to avoid the accident. But it was too late then and the car dashed under full power into the pole. The impact was terrific and crumpled up the hood as if it had been made of paper. The radiator was practically demolished and the engine badly wrecked.

Mrs. Couture was thrown a distance of about ten feet striking her head and arm on the stone curbing. She succeeded in protecting her daughter from the force of the fall by throwing her arms about the little one. Mrs. Couture's left arm was broken and her forehead was badly cut.

Her husband, also thrown from the car, landed on the sidewalk with considerable force, getting badly bruised about the body. The other occupants were thrown against the forward seats and except for a few cuts and bruises and a bad shaking up, did not suffer seriously from the accident.

After the accident Mr. Couture said: "I have driven a car for four years and this is my first accident. But if my wife ever gets well again, I will never own or drive another."

DECREASE IN CANDIDATES NOTED KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS OUTING

Who Take Civil Service Exams—Reason Given is Amount Of Salary Offered

From the constant decrease in the number of candidates for the civil service examinations it is fast becoming quite evident that positions in the different departments no longer hold out the great inducement to young men that they were reputed to in years past. But one applicant appeared for the regular semi-annual examination for the position of stenographer in the general departmental service at Washington, which was held this morning in the room of the U. S. Civil Service commission in the postoffice.

This is the smallest number of applicants that has ever appeared at any of these semi-annual examinations since they started about two years ago. Furthermore, not a single candidate came to take any of the tests that were held by the commission last week for positions in the government printing department.

The reason given for this lack of applicants is the small remuneration which the government positions afford, in these departments. Of course in the scientific departments and laboratories where skilled men are necessary the wages are considerably higher and the offices are filled for the most part by graduates of the technical and scientific schools. However, they generally seem to prefer not to make the government their life employer for as soon as they gain the benefit of a year or so valuable practical experience under Uncle Sam, they seek other and more remunerative positions outside of the civil service.

But in the other departments where the higher education is not necessary, the number of applicants for the different offices is decreasing alarmingly each year and this makes a great deal of work for the commission and is seriously embarrassing the government. While in conversation with a reporter this morning, Mr. Edward E. Stebbins, district secretary of the first United States civil service district, whose headquarters are at Boston, said that with the exception of the post office employees, the salaries in the ordinary departments of the service have undergone no increase since the year 1885. About 50 years ago, men who could find government positions were looked upon as very fortunate, but later when it was found that the salaries in the workshops of Uncle Sam did not increase as do those of outside employees this opinion underwent a change until at the present time there is an actual shunning of positions in the civil service.

Mr. Stebbins said that it is the same throughout the country and that the same difficulty is found universally in finding applicants for the examinations. In the capacity of secretary of this district, Mr. Stebbins travels through all New England, from Bridgeport, Conn., to Houlton, Me., visiting 40 cities on his route, and he finds a decrease in candidates everywhere.

On Thursday examinations will be held by the commission in the room at the post office for the position of electrician and topographical draftsman (male), and for woman copyist of the topographical draftsman.

WALTER HICKEY

Walter Hickey, head starter for the local division of the Bay State Street Railway, who during the past season has managed the car traffic in Merrimack square to the entire satisfaction of all who have occasion to use the cars, will be absent from his post for the next two weeks. Mr. Hickey started today to enjoy a two weeks' vacation, and during his fall from activities will take several long trips, down through Maine and New Hampshire. During Mr. Hickey's vacation, his duties in the square will be in charge of William Hayes, a very capable assistant.

Nashua Knights Entertained by the Local Council

Lowell Council, K. of C. entertained in its characteristically royal fashion yesterday the members of Nashua council, the affair not only being an annual event for both councils, but generally recognized as the formal closing of the Genoa country club, the summer home of the Lowell men in Tyngsboro.

Since its inception Lowell council has always entertained with lavish hospitality, be it at their own outings, their hotel days, and yesterday their reputation in this respect was lived up to and none of the little details that go to make up a successful and enjoyable affair escaped the eagle eyes of the efficient committee of arrangements.

The day was an ideal one for the affair and everyone appeared happy. There was a fine breeze blowing across the grounds all day making it a most inviting spot.

The Nashua men came down on special cars at noon while others came over the road in automobiles and when John Welch sounded the tocsin for dinner it was evident that several hundred from New Hampshire had responded to the invitation. Among the prominent ones noticed were Grand Knight Wm. E. Sullivan, Mayor, Wm. J. Barry, Past State Deputy John Haggerty, Supt. Wm. F. Sullivan of the Nashua water works who was formerly grand knight of Lowell council, Dr. Timothy Rock, Daniel Donnelly and other prominent Nashua residents. About the same time that the Nashua men arrived at the grounds, the Lowell brethren had arrived in special cars from Merrimack Square headed by Henry J. Heaps, the energetic grand knight. Then it was that the committee got busy with the tags, the blue for the visitors and the white for Spindle City men.

At precisely 1:10 the call for dinner was sounded and all proceeded to the pine grove where tables were set with an abundance of all the toothsome viands the D. L. Page Co. is capable of providing. An efficient corps of waiters, under the direction of Mr. Geo. A. Taylor, handled the large crowd in a capital manner. After dinner the entire party was photographed on the slope of the hill in the rear of the main clubhouse, and everyone looked his best.

The big event, the piece de resistance, if you will, of the entire day, was the ball game, and it was here that the Lowell knights "put it over" on the up-river ball tossers, the latter failing to register a single tally, while their opponents piled up eight runs. Rogers tried to pitch for Nashua and the Lowell boys wielded the willow so effectively that they piled up five runs, and the blonde haired youth was pulled out and "Jimmy" Mulvaney of the Nashua police force, was sent in and he held the Lowell boys down.

The Lowell city messenger, Monahan, did the twirling and he was hit harder than either of the Nashua pitchers, but he had an impregnable infield behind him. John F. White at second for Lowell played a marvelous game, having seven assists, two put-outs and two hits that sent in three runs for his side. Billy King, Billy Woods and "Terry" Cox contributed to the Lowell victory, while Mayor Barry, of Nashua, covered the first corner in big league fashion for his team. Wire Inspector Wm. F. Mahan gave general satisfaction as an umpire.

After the game steamed claims were served and the remainder of the sports were run off with honors about even. Grand Knights Heaps and Sullivan had a race and the decision went to the Nashua grand knight. Grand Knight Heaps says that Sullivan is a professional inasmuch as he wore spiked shoes and claims that he should have been ruled out.

The committee in charge was headed by Grand Knight Heaps, and included Joseph F. Rourke, Martin F. Conley, Michael J. Donahue, Walter F. Hickey, Daniel J. O'Brien, John Welch, Hugh C. McOsker and Philip J. Breen. Past Grand Knight Wm. F. Sullivan, under whose direction the Lowell council created the Country club idea, was greeted on all sides by the Lowell men.

The United Shoe Machinery Company

A STATEMENT

The persistent attempts to misrepresent the attitude of the United Shoe Machinery Company toward a public trial of the Civil Suit of the United States against it and to place it in the false position of seeking a secret trial, require us, in justice to our stockholders and the public, to publish the material portions of the decision of the Special Court invoked by the United States to try this case.

The officers of this company have sought a prompt and public trial of the Criminal Suit against them, and the Government has urged and obtained delay, although the Criminal Indictments were found months before the civil suit was filed. The company has never in any court asked for a secret trial. It has contended that to make the taking of depositions in the Civil Suit (such taking of depositions being in no sense a trial or part of a trial, but only preliminary thereto) a vehicle for spreading statements which have not been subjected to judicial test, and before they have been accepted as evidence by the court, is a violation of the principles of fair play; is without authority; is contrary to the usual practice of the Federal Courts, and in violation of the rules of the Supreme Court of the United States, and is an unprecedented and unreasonable proposition.

If the prosecution honestly seeks publicity and nothing else, it can easily secure it in an immediate trial of the Criminal Suit in which all testimony properly admissible in the Civil Suit can be publicly presented and in which attorneys for the defence can publicly cross-examine witnesses.

We ask every man who wants to see fair play between the United States and any defendant—corporate or individual—to read what the court says of this attempted treatment of the United Shoe Machinery Company by the prosecuting officers of the Government, resistance to which has been twisted by the unscrupulous and untruthful persons into an effort to obtain a secret trial.

THE UNITED SHOE MACHINERY COMPANY,

S. W. WINSLOW, President

District Court of the United States,
DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS.

IN EQUITY.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Petitioner,
UNITED SHOE MACHINERY COMPANY OF NEW JERSEY
ET AL.

BEFORE COLT, PUTNAM AND BROWN, JJ.

OPINION OF THE COURT.

Brown, J. "The United States, having given notice that it desires evidence to be taken orally under the 6th Rule in Equity, contends that the public and the press should be admitted to the proceedings wherein the depositions of witnesses are to be taken before the examiner."

"It is urged that the public and press should be afforded an opportunity to attend and to hear what ever may be said upon the examination before it has been reduced to writing and signed by the witness and before the deposition is presented to the court. This contention is not supported by the citation of any authority, and is so contrary to the usual practice both at law and in equity that it might be summarily disposed of save for the statement of the United States attorney that in cases under the Sherman Act such a course has been followed. The cases cited by the United States which uphold the undisputed principle of publicity in trials and in judicial proceedings do not in the slightest degree support the contention of the United States, and afford no assistance upon the question before us. This question is whether the public and the press should be admitted to the taking of depositions for use at a trial not then begun, but which is to take place in the future."

"The question is easily solved upon a consideration of the essential difference between a trial or a judicial proceeding, held by an officer with judicial authority, and the merely preliminary step of taking depositions."

"Equity Rule 67 provides that the examination shall take place in the presence of the parties or their agents, by their counsel or solicitors, that the depositions taken shall be reduced to writing by the examiner, that the testimony of each witness shall be read over to him and signed by him in the presence of the examiner and such of the parties or counsel as may attend, etc. The examiner may note objections, but he shall not have the power to decide upon the competency, materiality or relevancy of the question. The original depositions, authenticated by the signature of the examiner, must be transmitted by him to the clerk of the court, to be there filed of record, in the mode prescribed by Revised Statutes, Sec. 865."

"Rule 69 provides that upon the return of the commissions and depositions into the clerk's office, publication may be ordered by any judge of the court upon due notice to the parties, and further provides for publication by consent in writing of the parties."

"The brief of the United States attorney asserts, 'The right of the public to hear testimony, and that it is not accorded when it is given behind the closed doors of the court.' It is also asserted, 'There is a right of the public to hear what is being said in this case while it is being said.'"

"It is quite apparent from what we have said that such a supposed right has never existed in the practice of the chancery courts, nor has such a right in respect to the taking of depositions ever existed at law. Both common law judges and juries are compelled to receive testimony in the form of written depositions, and upon such written testimony of witnesses whom they have never seen nor heard make decisions as to the rights of parties."

"The public has a right to such form of testimony as the law provides shall be received at trials at law or at hearings in equity or upon other judicial proceedings. It judges and juries may not object that they have not seen and heard the witness while he was testifying, the press and public may not object."

"Furthermore, neither at law nor in equity does a deposition become evidence in a case until it is offered by one of the parties, and there is an opportunity for a judicial hearing as to its competency. A party in a cause has a right to the protection of the court in a judicial hearing. In the proceedings and under the provision of Equity Rule 67 and under the doctrine of Blease vs. Carmington, 92 U. S. 1, 7, the examiner must take down all the examination in writing. The party has the right to have his exceptions noted and to the further exceptions when the deposition is filed in court. 'The testimony is materiality and sufficiency, are to be determined by it, and after it by an appellate court.' Nelson v. United States, 201 U. S. 92. 'The only opportunity for redress which the party has against improper or irrelevant testimony follows the filing of the deposition. If all is to be made public before it is reduced to final form in writing and before there is an opportunity for a hearing upon the propriety and competency of the testimony, all effective protection against scandal, impertinence and irrelevancy is practically gone.'

"When justice is being administered by a judicial officer the public is entitled to attend, save under exceptional conditions, with which we need not deal."

"Due process of law requires that the parties have an opportunity to be heard. For the court to enforce a rule that the public and the press shall have an opportunity to listen before the parties to the case have an opportunity to be heard would be a plain violation of elementary rules of fair play. The proceeding before the examiner lacks the essential element—an opportunity to be heard by a judicial officer and to submit questions of right to a judicial officer."

"Furthermore, another essential difference is that upon a trial or judicial proceeding the rights of the parties are submitted for an adjudication. A party in equity or at law may dismiss his bill at any time before final hearing. Houghton v. Whitin Machine Co., 150 Fed. Rep. 227; Alcorn Trust Co. v. Keith, 150 Fed. Rep. 206. Under the view of the United States a bill may be filed, the testimony of hostile witnesses may be taken, the public and the press may attend, and the complainant may then dismiss his bill, leaving the defendant no opportunity to reply or to procure an adjudication which will offset the injurious statements of witnesses. It is manifest from the nature of depositions, because they are not hearing, that the proper practice is that which has been uniformly observed. Equity Rule 69 expressly provides for publication either upon the order of a judge or by consent of parties, after the return of the depositions by the examiner."

"Testimony at times must be taken out of court. Alexander v. United States, 201 U. S. 117. Trials are held at times and places appointed by law. Depositions may be prepared at times and places whereof no public notice is given by law or is required from the parties; at places not accessible to the public, and at places where there is no provision for the attendance of the public. The court is provided with officers for the preservation of order; the examiner, under ordinary conditions, is not so provided. Depositions are taken at death beds, in prisons, in remote and even foreign jurisdictions, been reported in the public prints that depositions in cases under the Sherman Act have been taken at truth there is in such reports we do not know, but they illustrate what may properly be done. What ordinarily done in the course of taking depositions, but what is entirely inconsistent with the contention that public policy requires the attendance of the press and the public."

"The impropriety of the publication, pending the suit, of depositions so taken is manifest from what we have already said. It is evident that upon ordinary principles of fair play the examiner's office should not be used as a vehicle for spreading statements which have not been subjected to judicial test."

"That the public and press should be entitled to hear what is not yet evidence and what may never become evidence, before the court which is to try the case hears it, is an unprecedented and unreasonable proposition. The contention that judicial proceedings shall be held with open doors is not under dispute. The proposition that the taking of depositions by an examiner, who is merely a ministerial officer, is subject to the same rule, is in our opinion manifestly erroneous."

"To justify a departure from the general practice and from the requirements of the natural meaning of the equity rules of the Supreme Court, which have the force of statute, it is necessary for the United States, if unable to produce authority, to show some reasons for its position. It asserts merely the right of the public to hear testimony. The public will have that right when testimony is offered. The public interests are fully preserved from the fact that the trial in the present case must be conducted with open doors."

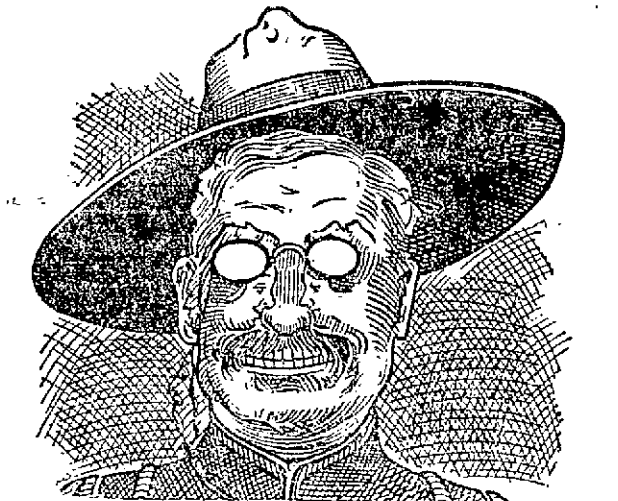

"In conclusion we may say: Is it not time enough for the public to know what the testimony is when the court knows what it is? Is it not enough for the public to receive testimony in the form in which the court must receive it?"

"The examiner will not, without the consent of both parties, allow the attendance of persons other than those mentioned in Rule 67."

"Judge Putnam said at the hearing of this matter by this court assembled under the statute, but as he had expressed an opinion upon the question involved was brought before him as a single judge, he deemed it proper to withdraw from expressing any further opinion."

NEGRO MURDERER ELECTROCUTED

James Williams Paid the Death Penalty at Auburn State Prison Today

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 16.—James Williams, a negro murderer, died in the electric chair in the state prison here today, delivering a rambling valdictory: "Attention, don't kill me," he pleaded, as he entered the chamber at a clock, the priests and guards bent over him. He wore his old working clothes and to the astonishment of the witnesses had on a soft cap. He was plainly annoyed when the cap was snatched from his head and he was forcibly shoved into the chair. After taking his seat he looked over all the witnesses as if counting them and then started to rise to make a speech but the straps already held him. He began to yell, "Gentlemen, don't kill me. I want to warn you about the wimmins. Keep away from the wimmins. That's what got me here. That's my voice. Lord Jesus, I was the first one."

Then he paused. If he expected the witnesses to acknowledge his speech and as the mask was going on he shouted, "Hello, I'm the one but gentlemen, don't kill me." He began to curse his lips, resisting Electrician Davis, who tried to smooth the mask.

"I'm going, gentlemen, but don't kill me," shouted the condemned man. He was repeating his plea when death silenced him. One current of 1500 volts, nine amperes, held for one minute sufficed to kill him. The execution was over in five minutes.

James Williams killed an aged farmer, James Doherty, with a club at Honesco, N. Y., in 1911, and later attempted to assault his victim's granddaughter. He was originally sentenced to be electrocuted during the week of June 11, 1911, but the execution was stayed by an appeal. Eventually the court of appeals affirmed the conviction and ordered his execution on Aug. 12, 1912. Again while Williams had twice attempted to commit suicide, once on the day sentence was imposed and again while confined in the death house. His actions caused Gov. Dix to appoint a commission of alienists to examine the condemned man. They reported that Williams belonged to the "mentally defective" class but expressed the opinion that the prisoner was sane and should be dealt with according to the findings of the court.

I. W. W. RIOT AT PROVIDENCE I. W. W. LEADER HAYWOOD ARRESTED

Mob Fought the Police Who Had Charged on the Red Flag Carried in Parade

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 16.—During a demonstration held here yesterday afternoon by the local branch of the Industrial Workers of the World in the interests of Elliot and Giovannioli, the marchers clashed with the police on Knight street.

Capt. S. L. W. Merrill of the fourth precinct, Inspector Charles McSoley, Patrolman J. A. Coleman and Patrolman King were roughly used by the crowd. Capt. Merrill was cut about the head and face and thrown and trampled on, while some one slipped a knife into McSoley's thigh, making a painful though not serious wound. The two patrolmen were beaten and kicked, and only one arrest was made. The prisoner is Dominick J. J. of 31 Amy street, a barber, who may be charged with assault.

When the parade started Capt. Merrill requested the leaders who were carrying the red flag to take it down and keep it out of sight. They did so, but a moment later he discovered that the Socialist group at the rear of the line, which included about 2000 men, were carrying the red banner.

The men massed about the flag and fought the officers who attempted to approach it. The various signs carried by the paraders were used as weapons and blows rained on the heads and in the faces of the quarter of officers, who finally fought their way to the flag and hoisted it down. Before they got away with it all four were badly done up, and the flag itself was torn to shreds. Incl. who was arrested, is one who, the police say, held on to the flag.

The police telephoned to the fourth station for help, but by the time it arrived the parade had moved on and had marched to Infantry hall, where a mass meeting was held.

Patrol wagons full of bluecoats from practically every precinct in the city prevented further disorder.

WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD

He Surrendered to Police After Delivering Speech—General Strike is Favored

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Twenty thousand men, women and children joined yesterday in one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever held in Boston, when they assembled, after a parade to the common, to protest against the arrest and retention in custody of Joseph J. Elliot and Arturo Giovannioli, jailed during the Lawrence strike on charge of being accessory to murder.

Twenty thousand voices sounded a mighty "yes" for a general strike to perpetuate the protest and in aid of the release of the imprisoned men. They cheered wildly when William D. Haywood, national leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, faced the crowd and addressed them. They cheered without the knowledge that Haywood delivered himself up to the state police when he left the grounds and sped away in the automobile of his captors with the cheers sounding in his ears.

Not until today will the vast body of workers know that a dramatic scene was enacted on the field where they gathered to protest other arrests of their leaders.

The leaders of the I. W. W. are facing trial for their labor in the Lawrence mill strike. Haywood furnished through Fred H. Moore of Los Angeles, $1000 bonds. He was charged with conspiracy.

At the close of his speech Haywood made a break through the crowd which was packed almost to suffocation, to Charles street. The big platform wagon on which the speakers stood was on the east side of the street. The crowd fell back as the I. W. W. leader passed through to the street. The state police were waiting for him in an automobile. Attorney Thomas Connolly accompanied Haywood. In the car were Arthur E. Keating, T. P. Eastman, James Maxey and Joseph Duboy of the state force. A taxicab took Haywood through the city to the Back Bay police station, where Haywood was formally booked and notified to be present in Lawrence this morning at the superior court to answer the charge.

Haywood waved his hat to the body of men who had followed him, cheering, from the temporary grandstand, and one knew what had occurred. The officers with which Haywood submitted to arrest probably saved Boston from becoming a scene of riot.

Long before morning the workers began to arrive in Boston. With their hands playing the "Marcellines" their banners streaming, men, women and children in baby carriages, women with babies in their arms, marched through Boston's streets. Over them waved the red banners of the I. W. W. and socialism. It was a holiday gathering, but hands symbols and men and women bespoke the social unrest.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Kid Gleason, of Kid Gleason would be an irreparable loss to the White Sox, there is no denying that Comiskey's head coach is of managerial size in spite of his diminutive stature. Gleason is the biggest more than likely he will accept. President Samuels of the Cleveland club believes Gleason is the best man available for the position and should make a winner out of the Sox with the material on hand. While the departure

The South Ends Defeated Lincolns, 15 to 5
Devlin of the Winners Pitched Great Game

THE SOUTH END BASEBALL TEAM

The South Ends, who have the remarkable record of losing but two games this season, defeated the Lincolns at Spalding park Saturday afternoon by the score of 15 to 5, and established a strong claim to the title and incidentally capped the purse of $50. The game was attended by a rather small but enthusiastic crowd. The South Ends played all around their opponents, and the exhibition of the winning team was one of the best ever given by an amateur team in this city. In all, the boys from the South common made but one misplay. They pulled some classy plays, particularly Gallagher at short and McGraw at first base. The latter put up a wonderful game on the first station, and several of his remarkable stops saved his teammates errors. He also did considerable coaching that greatly helped his team.

The feature of the game, however, was the pitching of young Devlin, who though allowing his opponents ten hits kept them scattered in all but the last inning. But six hits were made off his delivery up to the final session, and then the Lincolns piled up four blunders, that netted them two runs. Devlin fanned eight men, and issued but two error passes. His work was of regular league calibre, and his followers were loud in their praise after the game. Edwards on the receiving end of the winning battery, caught a good game, and in the field "Roundie" Roane pulled down a few that looked good for sure ones when they left the bats. He also introduced his specialty of beating out bunts, pulling two very cleverly. The other members of the winning combination played great ball and showed up particularly strong on the bases. Walter Lyons, the manager of the South Ends, worked hard in the early stages of the game, coaching his players, and to him considerable credit is due for rounding such a formidable combination of players around him. He is a close student of the game, and the exhibition of his team, Saturday, justifies his claim to the title, despite the fact that they lost to the Manhattanans, and another game between these two teams should be played to settle all doubts.

For the Lincolns, Goggin twirled a good game. His teammates were a bit of a peep at the error column in show, and while he allowed his opponents 12 hits, the misplays of his players were directly responsible for his undoing. Goggin was particularly strong in the pinches and his exhibition was one that would win the majority of games had he received good support. Allen, behind the bat for the Lincolns, played a star game. His catching, notwithstanding the fact that he played out of his regular position, was a feature of the Lincolns' work. He introduced a play in the fifth inning that brought the fans to their feet, owing to the remarkable rapidity with which the stunt was performed. "Billy" McMahon, a very fast man, was on first, having received a free kick and McGraw, the next man up, backed a high foul fly that brought Allen way back near the stand to get. When the ball was caught McMahon started for second, and Allen thought in a bad position, banged the ball to Jenkins like a shot out of a gun and the dejected "Billy" was re-elected. Jenkins, like a shot out of a gun, the dejected "Billy" was re-elected. Jenkins, like a shot out of a gun, the dejected "Billy" was re-elected. Jenkins, like a shot out of a gun, the dejected "Billy" was re-elected.

The South Ends scored one in the first inning after the Lincolns had been retired in this half, the run resulting from errors. Dowd fled to Belleville. Fahey walked, McMahon hit to McGraw, who fumbled and both were safe. Fahey tried to reach third, but was cleverly doubled up by Allen. Jenkins, Belleville, McDowell, Allen finally getting the put-out. McGraw hit to Durkshire, who lost it and McMahon scored. Brennan fled out to Durkin in short right, the latter making a fine running catch.

The Lincolns were sent down without a tally in the second and third, and in the latter half of the third the South Ends added two more to their run column. Fahey received his second pass of the game. McMahon laid down a hunt of Goggin, who had time to get either man, and when he threw badly to Jenkins, both men trotted around the paths and scored on a weak throw to head off McMahon. Goggin then tightened up and fanned McGraw. Brennan fled to Chadwick, Roane walked, Gallagher singled and Roane went out trying to steal third. Allen hit Goggin, who went to third after the injury to Belleville.

The Lincolns broke into the run column in the first of the fourth. Allen singled and took second on a wild pitch. Chadwick struck out. Allen stole third. McDowell fled to Roane. Durkshire singled and Allen counted. Durkshire stole second but the inning was over when Durkin fled to McGraw.

The South Ends were retired in quick order in the fourth and fifth innings as were the Lincolns. The latter also went out without a tally in the sixth, despite the fact that Jenkins the star man up singled and stole.

In the last of the sixth, however, the South Ends sent six men over the top, the runs coming from Roane and Gallagher walked. Edwards singled, filling up the sacks. Devlin singled sending two runs over. Dowd fanned. Fahey hit to Durkshire, who again made a mess of things by a bad throw and McGraw, who scored, fled to second. Edwards and Devlin scored. McMahon singled and then he and Fahey executed a fine double steal. McGraw brought them home on a line drive over third. Brennan went out, Jenkins to first, and the slaughter was over when Roane went out the game way.

In the seventh the Lincolns sent two men in and the runs came after two men had been retired. Durkshire fled to Brennan and Durkin fanned. Goggin pulled his second hit of the game, a beautiful single to right. Doole fanned. Haggerty gave the ball a clip that landed it out near the centre field fence and Goggin and Doole scored. Haggerty's clip was good for a home run, but in rounding second, the runner fell and though he recovered quickly it was waste coaching to hold him on third. He died that for Jenkins, next up fanned. The South Ends added one more in the seventh, on Lyons' three-bagger and a hunt by Edwards.

The Lincolns went down in quick order in the eighth. Allen flying to Brennan and Chadwick and McDowell fanned. The South Ends got five more in their half of the eighth. The fun started when McMahon hit to Durkshire, who made a good stop but a bad throw to first. McGraw fled to Jenkins. Brennan singled and McMahon scored. Brennan stole. Roane scratched a single sending Brennan to third, and "Roundie" then purloined second. Lyons sent a fly to left, which Durkin lost and Brennan scored. Edwards then dropped a fine three-sacker to deep centre and Roane and Lyons crossed the rubber. Devlin went out on a fly to Jenkins and Edwards sprinted home. Dowd singled, but Fahey closed the inning on a fly to Durkshire.

The Lincolns had a little batting in the ninth and added two runs to their pile. Durkshire singled but went out trying to steal second. Durkin singled, Goggin fanned. Doole made a three-bagger to left and Durkin scored. Haggerty walked and stole. Jenkins singled and Doole scored. Haggerty going to third. Jenkins started to steal second and Edwards batted the ball to McMahon and when Haggerty tried to come home, McMahon shot the ball back to Edwards at the plate getting Haggerty, and the game was over, with the score of 15 to 5 in favor of the boys from the South common. ELEVEN APPRENTICES DROWNED

Cutter Containing Twenty-four Upset in Lake Michigan and Boys Perished

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Eleven naval apprentices were drowned as the result of the capsizing of a cutter from the United States naval training station at North Chicago, Ill., late yesterday afternoon.

The known drowned are: R. C. Harlan, 1, L. Southworth, J. Wallace, J. A. Patton, W. N. Antiquis, A. L. Raymond.

The boys were between 14 and 20 years of age and were from the middle and western states.

The party, in which were 24 apprentices, left the training station shortly after 2 o'clock, in charge of Gunnery Mate Meagans, and after cruising about for two hours headed for North Chicago.

A few minutes later, while the cutter was north of Lake Forest, a squall struck the boat, the sails were lowered and an anchor was thrown out. Chicago, it is said, planned to let the cutter ride out the storm, but the waves soon were running so high that the boat dragged its anchor and gradually was being driven onto the beach.

When within 200 feet of the shore the cutter overturned and its occupants were thrown into the water. Captain W. F. Eulien, commandant of the naval training station, saw the danger of the apprentices from his headquarters and sent a motor boat to the rescue, but this craft also was capsized before it had gone far and the men in charge of it were obliged to swim back to the shore.

Later a force of rescuers were sent along the shore to where the cutter

THE SUICIDE OF COUNT NOGI AND ITS MEANING

The suicide of Count Nogi, the supreme military commander of the Japanese empire with that of his wife, has startled and astounded the world. In accordance with an old custom as a mark of loyalty to a dead sovereign this utterly absurd and cruel deed was deliberately carried out.

At the signal gun to mark the start of the funeral cortege the count cut his throat with a sword and his wife ended her life by process known as kari-kari which is understood to be a method of disemboweling. The dual tragedy is horrible, and it is all the more shocking as occurring in a nation that makes any pretense to advanced civilization.

Japan is not a Christian country, that is why such a barbarous custom as this prevails to some extent. It is known as the Samurai custom and is claimed as a privilege in the event of defeat in battle, disgrace through other causes, sentence of death, or when the lord of the manor dies that his soul may not depart alone. There was a dramatic instance of impressing this custom upon the Japanese soldiers during the Russo-Japanese war. It was on the flagship of Admiral Togo on the eve of his decisive battle with the Russian fleet in Yalu bay. At twilight on the night before the higher officers were signaled to the admiral's flagship for consultation. They were requested to enter in the order of their seniority. As each entered he found the room without a light except what shone upon the face of the admiral and upon a shining Samurai dagger laid upon a plush table so that the handle was towards the officer as if inviting his use in case the battle of the morrow should prove disastrous. Each officer was halted directly in front of the admiral where he could not fail to see the dagger. The admiral, instead of consulting with each, scanned him grimly and held him for fully a minute at attention so that the could not fail to be impressed with the implied threat, that should defeat come, the alternative for the surviving officers and men was the Samurai dagger with its curved blade so formed that the whole abdomen could be laid open with a single stroke.

It is needless to say that the warning had its effect. The victory was won and the officers, who if defeated, might have had to follow the Samurai custom joined in celebrating a glorious victory.

This custom is an inspiration to courage and bravery similar to the Mohammedan belief that the soldier who dies fighting for his country will be at once translated to the highest heaven.

The forces of christianity should attack this Samurai custom and by spreading the light of the gospel convince the Japanese of every class of the absurdity, or we might say, the barbarity of such a custom. The loss of the emperor was bad enough but followed by that of General Nogi, the blow is indeed most severe.

It would seem that even patriotism would have dictated to General Nogi his duty to his country, to help the new emperor rather than to abandon him on assuming the reins of power. This occurrence will bring such a protest from the civilized world that in all probability the Japanese government will take steps to discontinue and condemn any such practice in the future. If the government fails, the Christian missionaries should urge the Japanese rulers to condemn this custom as a remnant of a barbarous age that should not be countenanced or condoned by any civilized government.

WILSON TO THE ITALIANS

Some of the critics of Governor Wilson bring up passages from his writings reflecting upon the Italians as a people. To a delegation of Italians that recently visited him at Sea Girt, Governor Wilson in his plain and simple style said:

The fact of the matter is that America has been enriched by having the aspirations of some of the finest races of the world brought to her shores. I don't know whether we ought to rejoice that other countries are in the same degree impoverished, but for myself, as an American along with myself, I rejoice heartily in the circumstances that men of every European blood have brought to this country their highest aspirations, because they can't bring these aspirations without adding to the aspirations of the country and making the country greater and freer than it would be without them.

For myself, I have never felt the slightest jealousy of the right kind of immigration, and by the right kind of immigration I mean the voluntary kind. When men of their own initiative come with a preliminary love for or desire for America, to establish homes for themselves here and to identify themselves with the country, the result cannot be anything but good for the country itself.

I have been jealous, as we have all been jealous—I am sure I am including all of you—of the immigration which is not up by the steamship companies, by contractors who wish to bring over men who will beat their back and call rather than men of independence who elect for themselves. But while we all agree there must be certain restrictions, to guard the health of the country, for example, we shall all agree, I am sure, if we have the true democratic spirit, that that is the only sort of limitation which is legitimate.

What Governor Wilson says of forced immigration is very important. The steamship companies have done vast injury to this country by spreading false ideas throughout Europe and Asia in regard to the ease with which men can make money here. They quote the wages without saying anything of the cost of living and this is enough to convince people who work for very small wages that they can make a fortune here in a very short time. The city of Lawrence suffered from this form of deluding foreigners when the Wool mill was being built and nobody ever found out just who was responsible for the big planters by which the mill was advertised over in Italy and some other countries.

The other evil of which Gov. Wilson speaks is that of men coming here under contract or some agreement to work for a certain company or individual. The immigration induced in either of these ways is not healthy because many of the people thus led to come here are too often undesirable. The writers who set out to injure Wilson by quotations from his books are not meeting much success.

THE SUDDEN RECOVERY OF MORSE

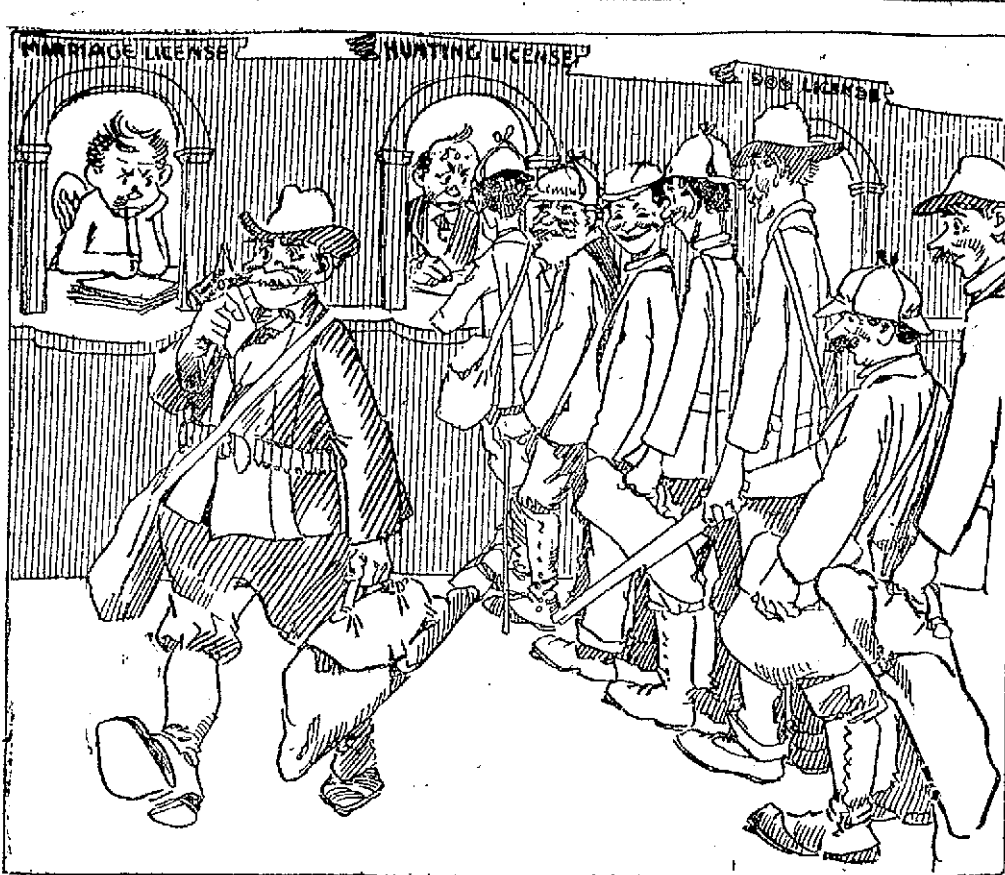

The miracle of the age is the cure of the former ice king, Charles W. Morse, who was at death's door when released from prison. He is now in good health and back punning in West street as if nothing had happened. It seems that there should be a string to all the pardons based upon ill health and regarded as necessary to prevent the convicts dying in prison.

Boston hotels are not sure whether they can serve their guests as usual. The strike craze has struck the waiters and the New York organizers are busy planning more trouble for the hotel men. Out of it all the public hopes will come an agreement under which the men will be paid fair wages and forbidden to accept tips.

Mr. Bryan is to go on the trail of the Bull Moose in a series of speeches on the campaign issues. Bryan claims that all the sound planks in the progressive platform were taken from the platforms on which he ran as candidate for president. A brush between Bryan and Roosevelt will be of wide interest.

Roosevelt says it was the bosses who nominated Wilson, but Wilson was not there to boss the democratic convention as the Bull Moose aggregation was bossed by one man.

It would not help Tatt's candidacy in the least to get up a war scare with Mexico or to intervene on any flimsy pretext. Better go out of office quietly, William.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS

The Rounder

Although it is the intention of the writer to devote this space primarily to the discussion of topics of local interest, nevertheless, it would be a rank shame to refrain from mentioning a peculiar incident which took place a day or two ago in one of the prominent Massachusetts towns for it appears to be a gem of inconsistency. It happened that the chief of police of the village in question was asked to attend a society affair to protect the guests against the danger of loss through thieves. Strangely enough, while the officer went about the ball room mingling with the millionaires and multi-millionaires, seeing to it that no clever, light fingered connoisseur of jewelry should gain entrance to relieve the company of their valuables, he was himself the victim of a crook and found himself poorer to the extent of a nice new five-dollar bill and an electric pocket searchlight. On the same night a neighboring villa was entered and robbed, and dwellers in that vicinity are conjecturing as to whether or not the same artist who "touched" the arm of the law made use of the searchlight in locating the valuables at this residence.

As varied as they are numerous are the incidents which the visitor to the local police court may witness. Perhaps that which impressed me most of all, for it was rich in human interest, was the unexpected windup of a non-support case which was brought before Judge Burleigh a short time ago. The complaint was a very frail looking woman and was accompanied by her daughter, a child of about six years old. On the witness stand she described in detail the neglect of her husband and he afterward admitted that her allegations were true. Then the judge, who seems to be possessed of unusual insight in affairs of this kind, administered to the offender a severe lecture after which he gave him another chance under the eye of the probation officer. The child, jumped from her position on a nearby bench, ran to her parents and taking each of them by the hand, lead them from the court room as she smiled up into their embarrassed eyes. The great happiness of the little miss at her parents' difference thus settled was a source of pleasure to all present.

The list of automobiles offered for the orphan's outing next Thursday is growing rapidly. Already 36 machines have been secured and it is expected that by Wednesday noon the required number will have been offered.

THE POLICE OF THREE STATES

Looking for "Duke" Who is Said Stole Autos and Beat Hotel Men

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—The police of Massachusetts, Vermont and New York are trying to locate a young Englishman who is wanted for larceny of automobiles and beating hotel bills.

Since his arrival in Boston from Europe a month ago he is alleged to have stolen half a dozen automobiles in which he has toured from state to state, stopping at first class summer hotels, from which he departs after securing loans from the hotel managers.

Claims to Be Duke

The young man claims to be a duke and his appearance and manner are such that he has been welcomed and entertained by society people at the various resorts through which he has toured. When one automobile shows signs of wear, it is said that he leaves it and steals another.

A month ago the young adventurer is said to have reached Boston on a Leyland line steamer. He spent several days here and next appeared in New York city. The Boston police will try to connect him with appropriating a Boston machine if it is possible. In New York he stopped at one of the most exclusive hotels.

He always appeared there in clothes of the latest cut, carried a cane and sometimes wore a monocle. He gave his name as C. Jones and had no difficulty in securing the hire of an automobile and chauffeur from the Lawson garage at 164 West 46th street.

Three days of touring in the vicinity of New York and the young man arrived at Coney Island. Here he succeeded in "shaking" the chauffeur, who was in charge of the hired automobile. He then hired another driver and started for Albany.

Stopped at Best Hotels

Along the road he stopped at only first class hotels. Not only did he evade paying his hotel bills, but he succeeded in securing loans from hotel proprietors and guests. At Albany he engaged rooms at the Hampton hotel. After being there several days he started out one evening dressed in evening clothes.

After borrowing $25 from the cashier he disappeared with the automobile, leaving his chauffeur stranded with a week's salary due him. Before leaving Albany Jones hired another chauffeur. He next appeared at Lake George arriving late at night at the Port William Hotel.

Jones made no effort to disguise himself. He registered as "C. Jones" at every place he stopped and allowed the original license number to remain on the machine. He is said to have secured a loan of $25 from the manager at the Lake George hotel, leaving shortly afterward for Vermont.

Last Friday afternoon Jones reached Braintree, Vt. He registered at a hotel, had lunch and with his chauffeur drove to the garage of Manley Bros. The Packard automobile was somewhat damaged and showed signs of its long drive over the road. Jones stated that he wanted the machine repaired and departed.

Later in the day he made arrangements at the same garage and, it is said, engaged a $4000 automobile. He visited the places of historical interest in and about the city and returned to the hotel for supper.

While the chauffeur was eating supper Jones disappeared with the automobile. The other car remained at the garage and the hotel people and owners of the new car did not learn that Jones had disappeared until the chauffeur reported that his employer was missing.

The Vermont authorities immediately arranged the services of the Wood-Morgan detective agency of 61 Court street, Boston, and operatives of that company are now at work in all the New England states and in Canada.

The last seen or heard of Jones was when he drove up to a farmhouse at Springfield, Vt. He told those at the farmhouse that he wanted the best supper they could give him.

Jones ate supper and was told that it would cost him 50 cents. It is said that he left the house to get the money from his machine, but cranked the engine and started away without paying the farmer the 50 cents.

SHE COMMITTED SUICIDE

Worried Over Husband's Approaching Death

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Mrs. H. C. Stone, wife of the Rev. H. C. Stone, rector of the fashionable Holy Trinity Memorial chapel, Twenty-second and Spruce streets, committed suicide at her home in West Philadelphia yesterday morning while the congregation of her husband's church was attending services.

Worried over the approaching death of her husband, it is believed to be the cause, Dr. Stone left her home on a trip for his health. Since then Mrs. Stone has been extremely melancholy. Yesterday morning while the services were being conducted in Holy Trinity, she took poison.

The janitor was the first to learn of the tragedy. He was sitting in his room when the house telephone rang. He picked up the receiver and heard Mrs. Stone scream, "My dear's sake, help me, I am dying." He dropped the receiver and dashed up the stairs, and found the woman twisting and rolling on the floor. The poison bottle was lying on the floor.

1,000,000 ROTTEN EGGS

Health Officials and Police Made Raid

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Health department officials yesterday accompanied by the police raided the warehouse of the Consolidated Egg and Yolk Co., and destroyed more than a million rotten eggs that the state department had ordered confiscated following the removal of Harry P. Cassidy, the pure food expert, by the governor last night. It is charged that Cassidy did not do his duty and the fact that these eggs were confiscated yesterday was the result of his removal.

When the health inspectors took charge of the place they ordered all the neighbors to take a box of the rotten household articles that might be contaminated by the poison of the decayed products. Several potholes were taken off and when the contents were poured down the inlets the odor was such that Gloria Dei, old Swedes church, the famous landmark of the city, had to hurriedly close its doors because of the odors. When the awful stench came in the windows, church had to be dismissed for the smell was too great for the worshippers.

Church goers were indignant at what they considered a desecration of the Sabbath but the eggs, which must have been centuries old, were destroyed so that even tanners could not use them and become affected by their toxins.

PAWTUCKETVILLE PEOPLE

Have Sent Petition to the School Board

A petition from the Pawtucketville parents requesting that their children who had been transferred from the Bartlett school be reinstated, was received by the school board on Saturday, together with the following letter from the committee appointed at a mass meeting of the parents last week:

To the School Board, Lowell, Mass.
Gentlemen: With please and petition protesting against your action of the 3rd inst. ordering children out of the Bartlett school, said action being a distinct insult to the children and their parents and an injury to the school, wholly uncalculated for and not in keeping with the high standard that placed the free public schools of Lowell among the first in the state and the Bartlett school a model, up-to-date grammar school where new ideas and methods prevail.

Requesting that you grant us the privilege of being heard in public hearing at your early convenience, I remain

Respectfully,
W. T. S. Bartlett,
Chairman of Parents' Committee.

CHURCH NEWS

Mr. Girard E. Lew Tells of His Experience as a Teacher in Virginia—Dr. Girard on "The Prodigal Husband"

Mr. Girard E. Lew, speaking yesterday at the opening service of the Pawtucket Congregational church, gave a very interesting account of his experience as a teacher in the Gloucester High school at Cape Cod, Va. A large number of people were present to hear Mr. Lew relate stories of the South, dwelling on the condition of the colored people in that part of the country.

Warthen Street Baptist.

The subject of the sermon delivered last evening at the Warthen Street Baptist church by Dr. Frost was "The Prodigal Husband," using King David as an example from scripture. He made use of the following principles:

"That sin works in the life as electricity does in chemically decomposing iron; that the first act is often the determining act in a man's career; that the very gloss on the sins of the night may make the sins more terrible in God's sight; that God forgives the truly penitent; that 'the way of the transgressor is hard'; David's sin led to family troubles, and he left a legacy of blood to his children. In closing Dr. Frost said: 'To live and die in a fool's paradise; to excuse sin, to murmur peace, peace, peace, when there is no peace, is but to rudely awaken at last before God's judgment bar, where all refugees for lies shall be swept away.'

First Universalist

Dr. A. S. McLeod entered upon his work as superintendent of the Sunday school of the First Universalist church yesterday and a large number were present to extend a greeting to him. He made a brief but timely reply to the welcome and afterward announced that on Thursday evening there would be a meeting of the officers and teachers at the residence of the pastor, 224 Foster street. The first of a series of talks upon "The Life of Christ" was given in the Bible class yesterday by Rev. Mr. Fisher. On the last Sunday in September, Rally Sunday will be held.

First Trinitarian

The business meeting of the mission department will be held at 3.30 Wednesday afternoon following the service.

Every pattern is exclusive, every garment carefully hand finished—your Suit not only fits well and looks well to start with, but 'twill hold its shape and every week you wear it proves its excellence. Fit and style will stand by to the end, as they will not in machine made clothes.

RIGHT LEG FRACTURED

Chelmsford Man Run Down by Auto

Charles Martin of West Chelmsford is in the Waltham hospital with a fractured right leg as a result of being run down by an automobile near Lexington park yesterday afternoon.

Martin and Arthur Phil started for Boston on their motorcycles. In the morning and were passing along the Bedford boulevard when an automobile dashed out of a side road and struck Martin's machine. The rider was thrown to the ground and the automobile was completely destroyed.

Martin was carried to the Waltham hospital, where the leg was set by Dr. Stiles, who stated last night that the leg would probably be saved. A slight scalp wound was also dressed.

This was not injured in any way, and returned to this city last night.

Card of Thanks

We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to kind friends and neighbors who by words of consolation or by floral offerings helped to lighten the burden of sorrow and grief which the death of our dear wife and mother has laid upon our hearts. To all we are grateful and will ever remember their sympathetic kindness.

George H. Greenleaf, and Mrs. Chas. Stanton, Mrs. Elsworth Giddings, Miss Grace Greenleaf, Nathaniel B. Greenleaf.

A Lesson From Our Ancestors

In the good old fashioned days of our grandmothers they depended upon the roots and herbs of the field to relieve disease.

Years have passed by, but science has not been able to improve upon the medicinal effects of these roots and herbs which are Nature's cure for disease.

Dr. J. C. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remedy for female ills, had its origin in this way and today tons of roots and herbs are consumed annually in making it.

For in this twentieth century, with its many distractions, it is rare for a theatre to not only exist but prosper for two consecutive years in the same place.

So on this the eve of a third year it is altogether fitting to say that at the coming attractions booked, the offerings of the theatre will be as pleasing features, novelties, etc., the fun holds if possible even greater value than the past. The popular running continually will remain the same as formerly. Performances being given every day, including Sunday, a feature which has been adhered to every day since the opening, with the exception of Good Friday. On only two days the theatre has ever been closed.

Thus being a sort of an old home week, or anniversary week, a bit of unusual excellence has been booked. It includes five of the best vaudeville offerings of the season, and is constantly intermingled with the latest and best productions from the photo-play world. Phone 2555.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Heard Petition of Tewksbury Residents Today

At the regular monthly meeting of the county commissioners at the court house in Northampton street this morning there was heard a petition from a number of the residents of the town of Tewksbury to the effect that Rogers street, a road leading from Lowell-Tewksbury state road to the farm of S. P. Pike, be relocated. Attorney Melvin H. Rogers represented the petitioners.

Mr. Pike who was represented by Attorney Albert S. Howard, objected to any relocation of this road that would encroach upon or injure his land. The county commissioners decided to lay out a road 40 feet wide along the line of the present road, and without otherwise affecting the relocation. The commissioners were then asked to give an order to the town of Tewksbury to build out the road in addition to locating the commissioners and they indicated that this would be done. This latter request was not contained in the original petition. Both parties expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied with the decision.

The regular monthly session of the probate court will be held at the courthouse tomorrow morning to transact any business that may come before it.

The many friends of Mr. W. C. Bartlett will be pleased to learn that he has accepted the position of overseer of the finishing department of a large cotton mill at Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Bartlett has for the past two years been employed in the finishing department of the Merrimack Manufacturing Co. On Saturday night a number of his friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McQueen, 41 Maple street, and presented him a beautiful and very valuable traveling bag. The presentation speech, to which Mr. Bartlett responded, was made by Miss Susan McQueen. Mr. Bartlett will leave here Wednesday when he will go to Atlanta to assume his new duties there and he has the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Miss Annie Lawson and Mrs. Kittie Cavanaugh were called to Beverly by the death of their aunt, Annie Hines.

Nothing Up—Something Down

REFUSE TO GIVE INFORMATION

"Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" Silent as to the Rosenthal Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Every effort of the police and district attorney to induce "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," who were arrested Saturday night, to break their silence, has so far failed. The arrest of these two gunmen, completing the round-up of all seven men wanted in connection with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, just two months ago last night, was followed by four hours' examination of the new prisoners yesterday.

The men were examined separately by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty and by Asst. Dist. Atty. Moss, but according to both Mr. Dougherty and Mr. Moss "Gyp" and "Lefty" were determined to "stand up" and refuse to give information.

The police Saturday formally held their wives as material witnesses, as well as a third man, Max Kahn, who the police say, is a pickpocket, and who was in the flat with the gunmen and their wives when detectives broke in upon them at supper Saturday night. The police also seized a large number of papers from the flat where the capture was made, in Glendale, Queensborough, and carried this to headquarters where it will be turned over to the district attorney's office.

Mr. Moss said last night that he was looking for these letters and papers, but doubted that the two prisoners would have left anything behind in writing that would be of use against them.

"They are boys," said Mr. Moss, "evidently of a good family and have had a good high school education. They are clean-cut and sharp in their conversation and use none of the slang characteristic of the gangsters."

To a newspaper man at the Tombs asking for a statement, the prisoner "Lefty" said: "I am sorry that I am not able to see you. I will be necessary for me to see my counsel before I can be interviewed."

However, Mr. Rosenthal will probably be arraigned on a formal charge of murdering Rosenthal before a justice of the supreme court today. It is expected that the arraignment will take place in Justice Goff's court.

Although the district attorney's office had offered $5000 for the capture of "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," the police officers have brought about their arrest with no reward. Mr. Whitman's offer specifically barred the police, but the detectives said yesterday that their success was its own reward.

WORCESTER FIREMEN

Partially Overcome at a Blaze That Caused a Loss of $15,000—Two Alarms Sounded

WORCESTER, Sept. 16.—Twenty-two firemen were partially overcome by smoke in an early morning fire here yesterday when flames swept through the market building of 8 Shenners on Front street, causing a loss of $15,000. Two alarms were sounded.

Shortly before 4 o'clock flames were discovered on the first floor. The smoke was so thick that it was some time before the firemen could find the fire, and it was while engaged in this work that most of the men were overcome. Frequent explosions of illuminating gas and ammonia tanks in the refrigerating plant made the fire fighting extremely hazardous.

The blaze was extinguished after a stubborn fight which lasted two hours.

HAYWOOD PLEADS NOT GUILTY

FOUR PERSONS WERE KILLED HEAD OF THE INDUSTRIAL WORKERS BOTH THE PRISONERS CONFESSED

Two Missing and 50 Injured by Tornado That Swept Over
Town of Salina, N. Y.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Four persons met death, two others are missing and 50 were injured by the tornado that swept over Onondaga lake and the town of Salina, adjoining this city late yesterday afternoon. The property loss will exceed a half-million dollars. The known dead are:

R. H. Elin of Colhamer,
G. W. Dunn of Fulton,
Charles Chapman of Cicero,

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Madison of this city, who were camping on Seneca river yesterday have not yet been found. It is feared they were drowned. The tornado struck the lower end of the lake just before 5 o'clock. Its duration was but a minute, but its force was terrific.

In its direct path were a number of summer resorts. Long Branch, one of these, was crowded with a holiday throng. It was there that the people suffered the most. The storm came out of the west, swept across Onondaga lake, struck the village of Liverpool and spent itself at South Bay, on Onondaga lake, a distance of about 15 miles. Besides the main buildings that were completely destroyed there has been great damage to standing crops and to trees. Two street cars were turned upside down. Dunn was a motorman on one of these cars and was killed when his car was overturned.

Poles carrying telephone, telegraph and electric light wires were swept down by the storm. The places where the most damage was done were in complete darkness throughout the night.

OF THE WORLD IS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

LAWRENCE, Sept. 16.—William D. Haywood, general organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, pleaded not guilty before Judge Joseph F. Quinn in superior criminal court here today to an indictment charging him with conspiracy in connection with the textile strike in this city. He was held for trial under bonds.

There were 22 counts in the two indictments. In both cases Haywood was charged with "conspiracy to injure and intimidate" mill operatives. The first indictment alleged conspiracy with Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Ettore Giannini and the other named William E. Trautman, Edward Rossini, James P. Thompson, William Yates, Thomas Halliday, Gildo Mazzarella and Giannini.

When Haywood was called upon to plead to the indictments he started to address the court, saying: "I am not guilty. My only efforts were to get bread for the mill slaves." He was not allowed to proceed by the court.

Judge Quinn placed the bail at $1000, $500 on each indictment, and sureties were furnished by Frank Sabrizopolito, a local banker. Haywood's attorney urged a speedy trial but the court set no date, suggesting a conference between Haywood's counsel and the district attorney.

The arraignment of Haywood was delayed by the failure of Bail Commissioner Connolly of Boston to arrive before noon. Mr. Connolly released Haywood on bail after he was arrested in Boston yesterday and it was to avoid the necessity of providing a second bondsman that Haywood asked that his arraignment be put over until later in the day.

MORE TESTIMONY WAS HEARD
BY SUFFOLK COUNTY GRAND JURY TODAY

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—The Suffolk county grand jury heard additional testimony today in regard to the alleged distribution of dynamite in Lawrence during the textile strike there last winter. The witnesses were Richard A. Child, a magazine writer, John Duffy, the state armorer at Lawrence, and the private secretary of Mayor Scanlon of Lawrence.

Dennis Collins of Cambridge, who was arrested last month together with President William M. Wood of the American Woolen Co. and Frederick E. Atteaux on an indictment charging conspiracy in connection with the finding of dynamite in the homes of Lawrence mill strikers, furnished bail today in the sum of $2,000. He was called upon also to furnish $1,000 sureties on an indictment charging illegal transportation of dynamite. In the latter case bonds were furnished by a court probation officer. Since his arrest Collins has been confined at the Suffolk county jail.

THE STATE CONVENTION
Of Federation of Labor
Opened in Fitchburg

FITCHBURG, Sept. 16.—Several score of delegates are gathered here today for the opening session of the 26th annual convention of the Massachusetts state branch, American Federation of Labor. The delegates represented more than 100,000 organized wage-earners and the program provided for addresses by prominent labor leaders. Legislation and organizing were prominent matters to be acted upon and the unionists will consider a political activity program for the coming year. The annual banquet will be held tonight.

After James W. Wall, of Worcester had called the meeting to order, Mayor Harty welcomed the delegates to Fitchburg. President Wall announced that he was not a candidate for reelection. Edward S. Allen of Holyoke and James S. Powers of Fall River are candidates for the presidency. In his annual report President Wall, after discussing the strike in Lawrence during the executive council of the state branch, June and July said:

"I feel that your committee on legislation should draft and present a bill to the next legislature that a man shall not be discharged for joining a trade union. This subject is of vital importance and we should have the right in our own time, with our own money to join an organization and if this means refusing us the right to work it should force us more strongly to the promise of the political candidates seeking election to the legislature in the future."

"An immediate and fair trial" of Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti arrested in Lawrence during the textile strike was urged by the executive council of the state branch.

The board of license commissioners started this morning on one of their periodical rounds of the license places throughout the city, beginning with the Graham street district. The object of this is to see that the law regarding the liquor traffic is lived up to by all the dealers.

"NO BILL" REPORTED
In the Case of Ex-Supt.
Stanley

LAWRENCE, Sept. 16.—In a final report submitted by the Essex county grand jury in superior criminal court here this afternoon a "no bill" was reported in the case of James J. Stanley, formerly superintendent of the city hall, who was accused of larceny from the city by Alderman Robert S. Mahoney, director of public charities.

An indictment charging larceny in 22 counts was returned against Joseph Menoux, ex-town treasurer of Saugus.

The board of license commissioners started this morning on one of their periodical rounds of the license places throughout the city, beginning with the Graham street district. The object of this is to see that the law regarding the liquor traffic is lived up to by all the dealers.

NOTES FROM THE DEPOT

Mr. Goss Returns After
Two Weeks' Vacation

Frank Goss, the popular baggage master at the Boston and Maine depot, returned to his post today after an absence of two weeks, during which time he spent a very enjoyable vacation. He is looking the picture of health and is very enthusiastic over his trip. Mr. Goss spent the greater part of his two weeks at Grand Mahan, N. B., and greatly enjoyed all the advantages of the island. The latter is an ideal place for seafaring, and Mr. Goss said that he greatly enjoyed fishing, clam digging and other sports. The island is twenty-one miles long and nine miles wide and boasts of having one automobile within its boundaries. It is divided into two sections known as Southernhead and Northernhead, the former being nearer the coast of Maine. There is but one way to reach there, that being by boat from Eastport, Maine. It is the mecca for a great many vacationists, not only in the summer time, but also during the colder months of the year.

One feature that those who inhabit the island greatly enjoy is cruising. Shortly after the Lowell man's arrival at the island his friend invited him out for a "cruise." Frank had visions of sailing down the coast in a yacht or some other kind of craft, and his anticipation was so great that he did not make any inquiry until his friend had walked him about five miles. The baggage master then said: "How about that cruise we were to have?" and his friend replied: "Well, are you not enjoying it?" "What," said Frank, "you don't call walking, cruising, do you?" "We certainly do," replied his friend, and gave the Lowell man the laugh. The joke was on the Lowell man, but any one from the city of spindles would undoubtedly "pull" in the same manner as he did.

However, Mr. Goss greatly enjoyed the walks through the country, and the climate there was very invigorating and agreed with the Lowellite immensely. On his return trip, Mr. Goss, stopped off at Eastport, Calais and Portland, enjoying a day at each place, and upon returning to his duties this morning, reported that the trip was the best ever.

The baggage at the depot this morning was very heavy, but as usual, was cleverly handled by the employees of that department.

The employees of the depot expect that when the fall time table arrives it will include a number of changes, and the new schedule is expected to be issued the latter part of the present month.

National Commission

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—After a preliminary discussion yesterday what they would do, the National baseball commission began what they hoped would be only a four hour session. A most important thing to be considered and decided was the major league draft of the minor league players. It was said today that the duties for the world's series would not be given out as the commissioners did not think that the race had altogether been settled.

DAMAGE BY THE STORM

On the Various Streets
Last Night

Owing to the heavy storm of last night, considerable damage was caused to the local streets. In First street, Bridge street and several other thoroughfares, the railroad tracks were practically submerged after the rain started. Willard was right on the job, when the shower started, owing to the fact that he was returning to his home when the rain started to come down, and when he saw that we were in for a severe downpour, he immediately got busy and summoned the track men to report for duty. The starter was obliged to get out in the storm and hustle to locate the men, but got the crew together in quick order, ordering two cars to be sent to Merrimack square. The cars were soon on the scene and the men worked all night in order to get things straightened out for this morning. The work was done with remarkable rapidity and while on a few lines, the cars were late this morning, the running time generally was very good.

WORK ON NEW COMFORT STATION

In Paige Street Was Started
Today—The Street Will be Closed to Travel

Work on the new comfort station to be erected at the corner of Paige and Bridge streets was started today. A large crew of men in the employ of Patrick Conlon, contractor, started this morning, tearing up the sidewalk and excavating for the foundation of the building. The station when completed will not only supply a much needed place for the central part of the city, but will also add to the appearance of the square and surroundings.

The structure will be 36 by 29 feet, and will occupy a portion of the sidewalk and a section of Paige street. It will set back several feet from Bridge street. It will be built of steel and cement, and will be finished with tile and enamel bricks. It will be on a story high. All the latest sanitary conveniences will be installed and when completed it will be one of the best equipped stations in this part of the country.

The contract calls for the building to be completed by December 3, 1912, and the contractor, Patrick Conlon, is confident that the work will be finished before that time. The architect is Henry L. Roarke.

This morning Commissioner Cummings sent a letter to Super Farrington of the local division of the Bay State Street Railway company, stating that during the construction of the new station, Paige street will be closed for travel, and the thoroughfare was closed today, to remain so until the structure is completed.

I. W. W. RIOT AT PROVIDENCE

Mob Fought the Police Who Had Charged on the Red Flag Carried in Parade

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 16.—During a demonstration held here yesterday afternoon by the local branch of the Industrial Workers of the World in the interests of Fitter and Giovannitti, the marchers clashed with the police on Knight street.

Capt. S. L. W. Merrill of the fourth precinct, Inspector Charles McSoley, Patrolman J. A. Coleman and Patrolman King were roughly used by the crowd. Capt. Merrill was cut about the head and face and thrown and trampled on, while some one slipped a knife into McSoley's thigh, making a painful though not serious wound. The two patrolmen were beaten and kicked, and only one arrest was made. The prisoner is Domenico Iaci of 31 Almy street, a barber, who may be charged with assault.

When the parade started Capt. Merrill requested the leaders who were carrying the red flag to take it down and keep it out of sight. They did so, but a moment later he discovered that the Socialist group at the rear of the line, which included about 2000 men, were carrying the red banner.

The men massed about the flag and fought the officers who attempted to approach it. The various signs carried by the paraders were used as weapons and blows rained on the heads and in the faces of the quartet of officers, who finally fought their way to the flag and hauled it down. Before they got away with it all four were badly done up, and the flag itself was torn to shreds. Iaci, who was arrested, is one who, the police say, held on to the flag.

The police telephoned to the fourth station for help, but by the time it arrived the parade had moved on and had marched to Infantry hall, where a mass meeting was held.

Patrol wagons full of bluecoats from practically every precinct in the city prevented further disorder.

I. W. W. LEADER HAYWOOD ARRESTED

WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD

He Surrendered to Police After Delivering Speech—General Strike is Favored

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Twenty thousand men, women and children joined yesterday in one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever held in Boston, when they assembled, after a parade to the common, to protest against the arrest and retention in custody of Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, jailed during the Lawrence strike on charge of being accessory to murder.

Twenty thousand voices sounded a mighty "yes" for a general strike to the police and in aid of the release of the imprisoned men. They cheered wildly when William D. Haywood, national leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, faced arrest and addressed them. They displayed without the knowledge that Haywood delivered himself up to the state police when he left the grounds and sped away in the automobile of his captors with the cheers sounding in his wake.

Not until today will the vast body of workers know that a dramatic scene was enacted on the field where they gathered to protest their arrests of their leaders.

The leaders of the I. W. W. are facing trial for their later in the Lawrence mill strike. Haywood furnished through Fred H. Moore of Los Angeles, $1000 bonds. He was charged with conspiracy.

Haywood Arrested

At the close of his speech Haywood made a dash through the crowd, which was packed almost to suffocation, to Charles street. The big platform wagon on which the speakers stood was on the east side of the parade ground. The crowd fell back as the I. W. W. leader pushed through to the street. The state police were waiting for him in an automobile. Attorney Thomas Conolly accompanied Haywood. In the car were Arthur E. Keating, T. E. Dinsmore, James Maxson and Joseph Doherty of the state force. A taxicab stood nearby and followed the party to the Red Day police station, where Haywood was formally booked and notified to be present in Lawrence this morning at the superior court to answer the charge.

Haywood waved his hat to the body of men who had followed him, cheering from the temporary grandstand. No one knew what had occurred. The confusion with which Haywood submitted to arrest probably was a Boston common from becoming a scene of riot.

Long before midnight the workers began to arrive in Boston. With their hands playing the "Marseilles," their banners flapping, men, women and children in holiday garb, women with babies in their arms, marched through Boston's streets. Over them waved the red banners of the I. W. W. and socialism. It was a holiday gathering, but bands, symbols and men and women bespoke the social unrest.

TAFT'S BIRTHDAY PARTY MANY DAMAGE CLAIMS

Was Held at Aunt Delia's As Result of Firing of Yesterday Army Guns

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—"Will" Taft had a happy 64th birthday yesterday. His greatest enjoyment being when Aunt Delia Torrey served him two helpings of her culinary masterpiece—apple pie—at a birthday dinner at her home in Milbury. Not since he attended school in Milbury and visited the party when class was out, had he found so much pleasure in dessert.

At dinner, besides the immediate members of the president's family, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, who came from their summer home at Biddeford, Me., Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Grosvenor of Amherst college, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Oron of Worcester; Mrs. H. L. Phillips of Milbury and Mrs. Thomas L. Rhoads, the president's military aide. The president thought it was just as blessed to give as receive even on his birthday, for he sent a substantial contribution to the Unitarian church of Milbury, which has been in financial straits. The check was sent through Miss Torrey, and in an accompanying letter the president wrote that he was glad to aid the church in the memory of his mother.

The president's 64th birthday feasts. After dinner at Miss Torrey's home two White House automobiles took the family party and several friends to Beverly and an evening meal was served at Paramatta. President Taft's summer home. Several North Shore friends sent bouquets as birthday mementoes, and congratulatory messages were received from all over the world.

Club Passe-Temps

The members of Club Passe-Temps, Hercule A. Toupin, president, closed their camp at Crystal lake with a banquet yesterday afternoon. The affair was attended by about 200 people and the best of enjoyment prevailed all afternoon.

At the conclusion of the meal, which was a varied musical program. The party broke up early in the evening, all present wishing to meet again a year hence as this is an annual affair.

THE SUICIDE OF COUNT NOGI AND ITS MEANING

The suicide of Count Nogi, the supreme military commander of the Japanese empire with that of his wife, has startled and astounded the world. In accordance with an old custom—a mark of loyalty to a dead sovereign this utterly absurd and cruel deed was deliberately carried out.

At the signal gun to mark the start of the funeral cortege the count cut his throat with a sword and his wife ended her life by process known as kari-kari which is understood to be a method of disemboweling. The dual tragedy is horrible, and it is all the more shocking as occurring in a nation that makes any pretense to advanced civilization.

Japan is not a Christian country, that is why such a barbarous custom as this prevails to some extent. It is known as the Samurai custom and is claimed as a privilege in the event of defeat in battle, disgrace through other causes, sentence of death, or when the lord of the manor dies that his soul may not depart alone. There was a dramatic instance of impressing this custom upon the Japanese soldiers during the Russo-Japanese war. It was on the flagship of Admiral Togo on the eve of his decisive battle with the Russian fleet in Yalu bay. At twilight on the night before the higher officers were signaled to the admiral's flagship for consultation. They were requested to enter in the order of their seniority. As each entered he found the room without a light except what shone upon the face of the admiral and upon a shining Samurai dagger laid upon a push table so that the handle was towards the officer as if inviting his use in case the battle of the morrow should prove disastrous. Each officer was halted directly in front of the admiral where he could not fail to see the dagger. The admiral, instead of consulting with each, scanned him grimly and held him for fully a minute at attention so that the could not fail to be impressed with the implied threat, that should defeat come, the alternative for the surviving officers and men was the Samurai dagger with its curved blade so formed that the whole abdomen could be laid open with a single stroke.

It is needless to say that the warning had its effect. The victory was won and the officers, who if defeated, might have had to follow the Samurai custom joined in celebrating a glorious victory.

This custom is an inspiration to courage and bravery similar to the Mohammedan belief that the soldier who dies fighting for his country will be at once translated to the highest heaven.

The forces of Christianity should attack this Samurai custom and by spreading the light of the gospel convince the Japanese of every class of the absurdity, or we might say, the barbarity of such a custom. The loss of the emperor was bad enough but followed by that of General Nogi, the blow is indeed most severe.

It would seem that even patriotism would have dictated to General Nogi his duty to his country, to help the new emperor rather than to abandon him on assuming the reins of power. This occurrence will bring such a protest from the civilized world that in all probability the Japanese government will take steps to discontinue and condemn any such practice in the future. If the government fails, the Christian missionaries should urge the Japanese rulers to condemn this custom as a remnant of a barbarous age that should not be countenanced or condoned by any civilized government.

WILSON TO THE ITALIANS

Some of the critics of Governor Wilson bring up passages from his writings reflecting upon the Italians as a people. To a delegation of Italians that recently visited him at Sea Girt, Governor Wilson in his plain and simple style said:

"The fact of the matter is that America has been enriched by having the aspirations of some of the finest races in the world brought to her shores. I don't know whether we ought to rejoice that other countries are in the same degree impoverished, but for myself, as an American along with yourselves, I rejoice most heartily in the circumstances that men of every European blood have brought to this country their highest aspirations, because they can't bring these aspirations without adding to the aspirations of the country and making the country greater and truer than it would be without them.

For myself, I have never felt the slightest jealousy of the right kind of immigration, and by the right kind of immigration I mean the voluntary kind. When men of their own initiative come with a preliminary love for or desire for America, to establish homes for themselves here and to identify themselves with the country, the result cannot be anything but good for the country itself.

I have been jealous, as we have all been jealous—I am sure I am including all of you—of the immigration which is got up by the steamship companies, by contractors who wish to bring over men who will be at their beck and call rather than men of independence who do for themselves. But while we all agree, there must be certain restrictions, to guard the health of the country, for example, we shall all agree, I am sure, if we have the true democratic spirit, that that is the only sort of limitation which is legitimate.

What Governor Wilson says here of forced immigration is very important. The steamship companies have done vast injury to this country by spreading false ideas throughout Europe and Asia in regard to the ease with which men can make money here. They quote the wages without saying anything of the cost of living and this is enough to convince people who work for very small wages that they can make a fortune here in a very short time. The city of Lawrence suffered from this form of deluding foreigners when the Wood mill was being built and nobody ever found out just who was responsible for the big placards by which the mill was advertised over in Italy and some other countries.

The other evil of which Gov. Wilson speaks is that of men coming here under contract or some agreement to work for a certain company or individual. The immigration induced in either of these ways is no healthy because many of the people thus led to come here are too often undesirable. The writers who set out to injure Wilson by quotations from his books are not meeting much success.

THE SUDDEN RECOVERY OF MORSE

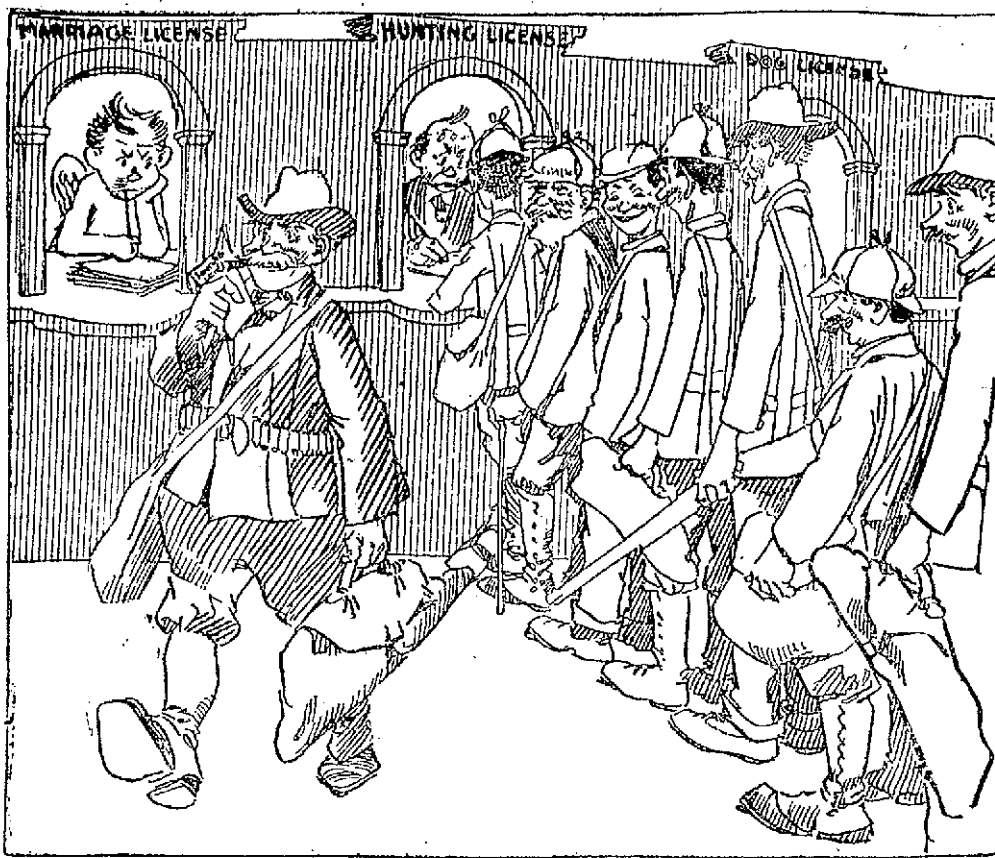

The miracle of the age is the cure of the former ice king, Charles W. Morse, who was at death's door when released from prison. He is now in good health and back plunging in Wall street as if nothing had happened. It seems that there should be a string to all the pardons based upon ill health and regarded as necessary to prevent the convicts dying in prison.

Boston hotels are not sure whether they can serve their guests as usual. The strike craze has struck the waiters and the New York organizers are busy planning more trouble for the hotel men. Out of it all the public hopes will come an agreement under which the men will be paid fair wages and forbidden to accept tips.

Mr. Bryan is to go on the trail of the Bull Moose in a series of speeches on the campaign issues. Bryan claims that all the sound planks in the progressive platform were taken from the platforms on which he ran as candidate for president. A brush between Bryan and Roosevelt will be of wide interest.

Roosevelt says it was the bosses who nominated Wilson, but Wilson was not there to boss the democratic convention as the Bull Moose aggregation was bossed by one man.

It would not help Tarr's candidacy in the least to get up a war scare with Mexico or to intervene on any flimsy pretext. Better go out of office quietly, Williams.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS

The Rounder

Although it is the intention of the writer to devote this space primarily to the discussion of topics of local interest, nevertheless, it would be a rank shame to refrain from mentioning a peculiar incident which took place a day or two ago in one of the prominent Massachusetts towns for it appears to have been a case of inconsistency. It happened that the chief of police of the village in question was asked to attend a society affair to protect the guests against the danger of loss through thieves. Strangely enough, while the officer went about the ball room mingling with the millionaires and multi-millionaires, seeing to it that no clever, light fingered connoisseur of jewelry should gain entrance to relieve the company of their valuables, he was himself the victim of a crook and found himself poorer to the extent of a nice new five-dollar bill and an electric pocket flashlight. On the same night a neighboring villa was entered and robbed, and dwellers in that vicinity are conjecturing as to whether or not the same artist who "touched" the arm of the law made use of the searchlight in locating the valuables at this residence.

As varied as they are numerous are the incidents which the visitor to the local police court may witness. Perhaps that which impressed me most of all, for it was rich in human interest, was the unexpected windup of a non-support case which was brought before Judge Enright a short time ago. The complaint was a very frail looking woman and was accompanied by her daughter, a child of about six years old. On the witness stand she described in detail the neglect of her husband and his afterward admitted that her allegations were true. Then the judge, who seems to be possessed of unusual insight in affairs of this kind, administered to the offender a severe lecture after which he gave him another chance under the eye of the probation officer. The child, leaped from her position on a nearby bench, ran to her parents and taking each of them by the hand, led them from the court room as she smiled up into their embarrassed eyes. The great happiness of the little miss at her parents' deliverance thus settled was a source of pleasure to all present.

The list of automobiles offered for the orphan's fund next Thursday is growing rapidly. Already 26 machines have been secured and it is expected that by Wednesday noon the required number will have been offered.

THE POLICE OF THREE STATES

Looking for "Duke" Who is Said Stole Autos and Beat Hotel Men

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—The police of Massachusetts, Vermont and New York are trying to locate a young Englishman who is wanted for larceny of automobiles and beating hotel bills.

Since his arrival in Boston from Europe a month ago he is alleged to have stolen half a dozen automobiles in which he has toured from state to state, stopping at first class summer hotels, from which he departs after securing loans from the hotel managers.

Claims to Be Duke

The young man claims to be a duke and his appearance and manner are such that he has been welcomed and entertained by society people at the various resorts through which he has toured. When one automobile shows signs of wear, it is said that he leaves it and steals another.

A month ago the young adventurer is said to have reached Boston on a Leyland line steamer. He spent several days here and next appeared in New York city. The Boston police will try to connect him with appropriating a Boston machine if it is possible. In New York he stopped at one of the most exclusive hotels.

He always appeared there in clothes of the latest cut, carried a cane and sometimes wore a monocle. He gave his name as C. Jones and had no difficulty in securing the hire of an automobile and chauffeur from the Lawson garage at 164 West 46th street.

Three days of touring in the vicinity of New York and the young man arrived at Coney Island. Here he succeeded in "shaking" the chauffeur, who was in charge of the hired automobile. He then hired another driver and started for Albany.

Stopped at Best Hotels

Along the road he stopped at only first class hotels. Not only did he evade paying his hotel bills, but he succeeded in it is said, in securing loans from hotel proprietors and guests. At Albany he engaged rooms at the Hampton hotel. After being there several days he started out one evening dressed in evening clothes.

After borrowing $25 from the cashier he disappeared with the automobile, leaving his chauffeur stranded with a week's salary due him. Before leaving Albany Jones hired another chauffeur. He next appeared at Lake George arriving late at night at the Fort William Henry hotel.

Jones made no effort to disguise himself. He registered as "C. Jones" at every place he stopped and allowed the original license number to remain on the machine. He is said to have secured a loan of $25 from the manager at the Lake George hotel, leaving shortly afterward for Vermont.

Last Friday afternoon Jones reached Brattleboro, Vt. He registered at a hotel, had lunch and with his chauffeur drove to the garage of Manley Bros. The Packard automobile was somewhat damaged and showed signs of its long drive over the road. Jones stated that he wanted the machine repaired and departed.

The Vermont authorities immediately engaged the services of the Wood-Morgan detective agency of 61 Court street, Boston, and operatives of that New England agency are now at work in all the New England states and in Canada. The last seen of heard of Jones was when he drove up to a farmhouse at Springfield, Vt. He told those at the farmhouse that he wanted the best supper they could give him.

Jones ate supper and was told that it would cost him 50 cents. It is said that he left the house to get the money from his machine, but cranked the engine and started away without paying the farmer the 50 cents.

SHE COMMITTED SUICIDE

Worried Over Husband's Approaching Death

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—Mrs. H. C. Stone, wife of the Rev. H. C. Stone, rector of the fashionable Holy Trinity Memorial chapel, Twenty-second and Spruce streets, committed suicide in her home in West Philadelphia yesterday morning while the congregation of her husband's church was attending services.

Worried over the approaching death of her husband is believed to be the cause. Dr. Stone left last Friday on a trip for his health. Since then Mrs. Stone has been extremely melancholy. Yesterday morning, while the services were being conducted in Holy Trinity, she took poison.

The janitor was the first to learn of the tragedy. He was sitting in his room when the house telephone rang. He picked up the receiver and heard Mrs. Stone scream, "The God's sake, help me, I am dying." He dropped the receiver and dashed up the stairs, and found the woman twisting and rolling on the floor.

1,000,000 ROTTEN EGGS

Health Officials and Police Made Raid

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—Health department officials yesterday accompanied by the police raided the warehouse of the Consolidated Egg and Yolk Co., and destroyed more than a million rotten eggs that the state department had ordered confiscated following the removal of Harry P. Cassidy, the pure food expert, by the governor last night. It is charged that Cassidy did not do his duty and the fact that these eggs were confiscated yesterday was the result of his removal.

When the health inspectors took charge of the place they ordered all the neighbors to take in boxes and other household articles that might be contaminated by the poison of the decayed products. Sewer manholes were taken off and when the contents were poured down the inlets the odor was such that Gloria Dei, old Swedes church, the famous landmark of the city, had to hurriedly close its doors because of the odor. When the awful stench came in the windows, church had to be dismissed for the smell was too great for the worshippers.

Church goers were indignant at what they considered a desecration of the Sabbath, but the eggs, which must have been centuries old, were so decayed so that even farmers could not use them and become affected by their toxins.

PAWTUCKETVILLE PEOPLE

Have Sent Petition to the School Board

A petition from the Pawtucketville parents requesting that their children who had been transferred from the Bartlett school be reinstated, was received by the school board on Saturday, together with the following letter from the committee appointed at a mass meeting of the parents last week:

To the School Board, Lowell, Mass. Gentlemen: Herewith, please find petition protesting against your action of the 9th inst. ordering children out of the Bartlett school, said action being a distinct insult to the children and their parents and an injury to the school, wholly uncalled for and not in keeping with the high standard that placed the free public schools of Lowell among the first in the state and the Bartlett school a model, up-to-date grammar school where new ideas and methods prevail.

Requesting that you grant us the privilege of being heard in public hearing at your early convenience, I remain

Respectfully,
W. T. S. Bartlett,
Chairman of Parents' Committee.

CHURCH NEWS

Mr. Girard E. Low Tails of His Experience as a Teacher in Virginia—Dr. Frost on "The Prodigal Husband"

Mr. Girard E. Low, speaking yesterday at the opening service of the Pawtucket Congregational church, gave a very interesting account of his experience as a teacher in the Gloucester High school at Capehart, Va. A large number of people were present to hear Mr. Low relating stories of the South, dealing in the condition of the colored people in that part of the country.

Worthing Street Baptist.

The subject of the sermon delivered last evening at the Worthing Street Baptist church by Dr. Frost was "The Prodigal Husband," using King David as an example from Scripture.

He made up of the following principles: "That sin works in the life as electricity does in chemically decomposing iron; that the first act is often the determining act in a man's career; that the very glass on the sins of the mighty only make the sins more terrible in God's sight; that God forgives the truly penitent; that the way of the transgressor is hard; David's sin led to family trouble, and he left a legacy of sorrow to his children. In closing Dr. Frost said: To live and die in a fool's paradise; to excuse sin, to murmur peace, peace, peace, when there is no peace, is but to rudely awaken at last before God's judgment bar, where all refugees for lies shall be swept away."

First Universalist

Mr. A. S. McClellan, upon his work as superintendent of the Sunday school of the First Universalist church yesterday and a large number were present to extend a greeting to him. He made a brief but timely reply to the welcome and afterward announced that on Thursday evening there would be a meeting of the officers and teachers at the residence of the pastor, 224 Foster street. The first of a series of talks upon "The Life of Christ" was given in the Bible class yesterday by Rev. Dr. Fisher. On the last Sunday in September, Rally Sunday will be held.

RIGHT LEG FRACTURED

Chelmsford Man Run Down by Auto

Charles Martin of West Chelmsford is in the Waltham hospital with a fractured right leg as a result of being run down by an automobile near Lexington park yesterday afternoon.

Martin and Arthur Phil started for Boston on their motorcycles in the morning and were passing along the Bedford boulevard when an automobile dashed out of a side road and struck Martin's machine. The rider was thrown to the ground and the automobile was completely destroyed.

Martin was carried to the Waltham hospital, where the leg was set by Dr. Stiles, who stated last night that the leg would probably be saved. A slight scalp wound was also dressed.

Phil was not injured in any way, and returned to this city last night.

A Lesson From Our Ancestors

In the good old fashioned days of our grandmothers they depended upon the roots and herbs of the field to relieve disease. Years have passed by, but science has never been able to improve upon the medicinal effects of these same roots and herbs, which are Nature's cure for disease.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a successful remedy for female ills, had its origin in this way and today tons of roots and herbs are consumed annually in making it.
